Be careful in future." foregoing warning scribbled it on a berap of paper was found an envelope containing several hment of John Meely, 1736 Four anth street northwest this morning and gave Mr. Meely the first intimation hat his safe had been rifled during the digation showed that the safe ha deither been opened by the combina-tion or left unlocked when the place was closed last evening, and $55 in cash sed last evening, and $55 in cash tolen. Besides the money, the thief cook several hundred dollars in checks, out evidently fearing he would be unto cash them without detection were put in a large envelope un nailed to Mr. Meety with the penciled clined to believe that the burgiar found it epen.

The place was entered by breaking a small piece of glass out of a secondatory window, leading to a rear porch, so that the thief could reach his hand inside and unfasten the catch. That the robbery occurred shortly after the places was closed for the night was indicated by the fact that the envelope containing the checks was mailed, according to the postmark, at 10 p. m. Bergeant Bean, of the Eighth precinct, who investigated the robbery, was unable to get any clue to the identity of the thief.

Predict Senate Will Pass Seamen's Bill

Report by the Burton subcommittee to the Commerce Committee in the Senate upon the seamen's involuntary servi-tude bill is expected about January 9. Hearings by the subcommittee on amendments proposed by the ship own-ers have been completed, and the passage of the measure during the present session was predicted by Senators today.

The bill was given a practically unanimous vote in the House last summer, when the La Folictic amendments establishing the three-watch system, giving the seamen eight continuous hours on duty and sixteen hours off duty, were defeated.

Head of West Virginia Shelter Accused of Mistreating Young Inmate.

HARRISONBURG, Va., Dec. 19.—The Rev. W. J. Hubbard is at the Harrison-burg jail here today. He received a telegram and a letter Monday notifying him that he had been discharged from the superintendency of the Davia Child Sheiter, which position he had held for several years, though making his home in Broadway with his wife and five children. He is about forty years old. Mr. Hiubbard declares he is innocent. He says that a twelve-year-old girl at the shelter has often asked him to adopt her, and take her to his home as his daughter. He says that he always treated her as one of his own children. He suggests this as a possible basis for the charge.
